The Singapore Packaging Council (PCS), an industry group of the Singapore Manufacturing Federation (SMF) will be organising in conjunction with its flagship event, Packaging Star Awards Gala Dinner, a Conference on “Asia Future Packaging Innovation & Technology”

Singapore Packaging Star Award is a prestigious national award honouring companies and individuals with innovative and unique packaging designs. Started in 1998 it continues to be the most renowned award in Singapore which recognizes excellence in packaging in the areas of creative designs, material usage, functional performance, brand enhancement and environmental consciousness.

The Singapore Packaging Conference will bring you renowned speakers from World Packaging Organisation, Asian Packaging Federation and professionals from A-Stars, Design Council Singapore, SIMTech as well as practitioners in the packaging industry. This conference will equip us with what the future of packaging has in store for us in particular in the areas of material innovation, latest manufacturing technology and design creativity. It is also a great opportunity for like-minded business professionals to network and bring their businesses to the next level.
